IBM Notes and Domino product family components

The IBM Notes and Domino family comprises several core components that are seamlessly integrated.

IBM Notes and iNotes client software

In the cloud with IBM SmartCloud® Notes or on premises, IBM Notes and iNotes® clients bring together messaging (email), calendar, to-do lists, corporate directory, teamrooms, discussion forums, file sharing, microblogging, instant messaging and other applications into a unified, integrated offering. Delivered as a rich desktop client (IBM Notes software) or a browser-based client (IBM iNotes software) or to today's most popular mobile devices (through IBM Notes Traveler software), Notes technology provides a sleek, modern social user interface for a rich and engaging experience virtually anywhere. Users can interact with business and social content directly from their inbox through embedded experiences, which can also include access to business and social activity streams, such as social file sharing and application updates.
